TO BE MADE BY FARMERS WITH-OUT MEMORANDA.

Senator Bradley Asks This Relief
From Conference—Stands Good Chance, He Says.

Washington, July 17.—Senator Bradley, who is keeping in close touch with the conference committee, is of the opinion that the duty on fluor spar will stand in the bill. The house rate was $1.50 a ton and the senate $3. On hemp, the senator expects a compromise about midway between the senate and house rates. Senator Bradley is hopeful that when the conference committee agrees it will be found that the senate amendment removing the tax on leaf tobacco in the hands of the farmer will be so arranged as to eliminate the use of memoranda of sales by the farmer. He is working with the conference committee with this end in view and hopes to bring about a result that will grant still further relief to the grower. The senator learns that every effort is still being made by manufacturers to defeat the amendment, but he is confident that it will come out of conference in satisfactory shape.

Three White Men Held Him Up.
Will Braxton, colored, appeared at the police station last night and claimed that three white men tried to hold him up at Second street and Kentucky avenue last night about 7:30 o'clock. He says the three men asked him to buy the drinks, and when he refused that they pulled long knives and started after him, but he escaped by running. Patrolman Stewart accompanied him to the corner but the three men were not seen.

The war department paid $94,418 for artificial limbs last year.

Speed Manifested More in the Motions Than in the Results.

"Barbers," remarked the man with the short hair, "are born unable to hurry. Just you go into a shop, as I did the other day, wanting a haircut, and ask the barber how long it will take. He told me 'Oh, about twenty minutes,' and I said to go ahead. "That barber honestly believed he was hurrying, but he couldn't leave out those little snip-snips about the back of the neck they are all so fond of doing, and he had to cut the hair as if he were chiseling priceless marble. When I got to be about half an hour I said to him, 'You're a pretty bad judge of time, aren't you?' He came back with something about not wanting to turn out a poor job.

"I've known it to happen often in the case of shaving. When you tell a barber to hurry he dashes around on the tiled floor at imminent risk of falling, and he splashes the lather into your eyes and your mouth, but the fact remains that he takes as much time as usual to rub the lather into your face and as much time to shave you.

"I begin to believe there is some sort of rule regarding time that all barbers observe, because I have timed them. Once I asked a barber to hurry shaving me, and he had all the motions, but took up just as much time as when he went along at his usual gait.

"I imagine they believe the customer will be satisfied with the appearance of speed, and that's the reason they run around so and breathe heavily as if winded when changing from one side of the chair to the other."—New York Sun.

How Elephants Sleep.

In captivity elephants stand up when they sleep, but in the jungle, in their own land, they lie down. The reason given for the difference between the elephant in captivity and in freedom is that the animal never acquires complete confidence in his keeper and always longs for liberty.—Watchword.
